CANCERS CAN BE CURED.
DR. L. CHASE,
(LATE OF PORTLAND),
THE CELEBRATED
INDIANOPATHY, CANCER & HUMOR
DOCTOR,

HAVING purchased the residence of H. A Wood, 54 Hammond Street Bangor, Maine would be happy to be consulted by all who are afflicted with

Cancers Cancer Humors Tumors, Scrofula, Leprosy Salt Rheum Fits, Neuralgia Bronchial Affections, Catarrh Rheumatism Sick Headache, Liver Diseases Female Weaknesses Piles Diseases of the Throat and Lungs Diseases of the Kidneys Stiff Joints, Gravel Diabetes &c &c

Dr Chase has practiced in his profession for sixteen years and in that time has spent two years in Florida and Cuba, for the purpose of gaining a correct knowledge of the most efficient remedies used by the various tribes of Indians of that country and by great expense has gained many valuable secrets which have heretofore been unknown to the world.

In Cancer he claims superiority over all other Physicians of the age, for he never fails to perform a cure when taken in a proper stage.

His mode of curing Cancers is by the application of a plaster which is strictly vegetable and will have no effect upon the healthy flesh and in no case uses a knife as does Dr Greene of Boston.

He also boldly asserts that he can tell every individual their disease and location of their pains and describe their feelings in almost every case, more minutely than they can possibly themselves.

Dr Chase is not a Clairvoyant but conducts his examinations on a strictly scientific principle, and will challenge any professed medium for a test examination.

Office hours from 9 A.M to 8 P.M. Examinations free. Office at residence No 54 Hammond Street.

To Bee-Keepers.

THE Subscribers would call the attention of Bee-Keepers and others interested to the new and improved BEE-HIVE patented by SAMUEL TAYLOR of Burlington, Maine October 9th 1866.

The advantages of this Hive over all others are these —

1st Giving access to all the surplus honey in the hive without killing the bees or destroying a piece of the hive.

2d Changing all the comb in the hive once in three years.

3d. Being so constructed that a late or weak swarm not having honey enough to winter them and another having a surplus of honey, can easily be wintered together and with perfect safety.

We are now prepared to sell State County, or Town Rights on liberal terms to all who may wish to purchase. Also can furnish a hive for sample, to all purchasing rights of same.

Agents wanted to sell rights.

This Hive can be seen at R. B. DUNNING & CO'S Seed Store.

For further particulars address SAMUEL TAYLOR or ANDREW WOODMAN, of Burlington Maine.

THE MOST POPULAR COOKING STOVE

IN NEW ENGLAND.

The Model Cook for Wood or Coal.

THIS STOVE has now been before the public for five years and thoroughly tested in all respects and to say that no stove ever made has given equal satisfaction is speaking within the bounds of truth, while it is no disparagement to other Stoves.

THAT THE MODEL COOK will do more work with a given amount of fuel than any other Stove made is a fixed fact.

THE MODEL COOK will do more work for the reason that it has full one third more oven room than any other stove. Is more economical for the reason that the fire is made between the ovens. No heat is lost.

A more peculiar feature of the Model Cook is the addition of a Ventilating Roasting Oven so arranged that it can be used separately for roasting, or in connection with the large oven for baking. By this process roasting and baking are entirely separated.

This permanent extension gives an additional boiler hole and other room on the top of the stove while at the same time the stove occupies no more room on the floor than ordinary stoves.

In fact THE MODEL COOKS are acknowledged by all who have used them to be

THE MOST PERFECT
THE MOST ECONOMICAL,
THE MOST CONVENIENT,
THE MOST BEAUTIFUL,
AND THE
Most Durable Stove in the World!

THE MODEL COOKS are manufactured at the rate of 5000 per year, and the demand for them is constantly increasing.

EVERY MODEL COOK sold, is warranted to give entire satisfaction in all respects or the stove will be taken back and the full price refunded.

This stove is more extensively in use in New England for coal than any other, and gives the best satisfaction. We are the exclusive agents for this Stove in Bangor and will be pleased to show to any who will call.

An Invaluable Medicine for the Purifying of the Blood.

Dr. J. W. POLAND'S HUMOR DOCTOR.
A POSITIVE REMEDY FOR ALL KINDS OF HUMORS, PARTICULARLY
Erysipelas, Nettle Rash, Salt Rheum, Scrofula Carbuncles, Boils & Piles.

IT IS VERY EASY TO SAY OF THIS, OR ANY other Medicine, "It is the very best Remedy known." It is not always so easy to prove it. It is however, exceedingly gratifying to the proprietor of this Medicine, that, while he declares to the public that this is a most wonderful and effective Specific for Humors, as stated above, he has abundant proof at hand to sustain his statements.

For sixteen years the Humor Doctor has been manufactured and sold, and every year has increased the value of its reputation and the amount of its sales. In New Hampshire, where it was originated, no remedy for Humors is so highly prized.—An eminent physician (now an army surgeon) when practicing in N H purchased between fifty and sixty gallons of it during seven or eight years, and used it in his practice. He has since then ordered it for the hospital where he was stationed. Other physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success. When the proprietor lived in New Hampshire, at Goffstown Centre, for the space of thirty or forty miles around, and in Manchester particularly, the Humor Doctor was well known and highly valued for the numerous and wonderful cures which it effected. Though manufactured in large quantities the supply was frequently exhausted, and purchasers had to wait for more to be made. In that region some very severe cases of erysipelas were treated with it,—and they were cured. Erysipelas sores or carbuncles those ugly painful ulcers, were entirely removed wherever this medicine was faithfully used. So it was with Scrofula and Salt Rheum. The Humor Doctor cured them.

Since the Proprietor's removal to Melrose, Mass., his present residence he has been regularly selling it to patients who have applied to him in person and has been very successful in relieving and curing them. One case of Erysipelas—of an old man 72 years—is worth mentioning in particular. When he came to the Doctor's office he could only wear a pair of old rubber overshoes on his feet, and ankles were so swollen and sore. When he pulled off his socks the scales came with them and the raw bleeding feet, were frightful to behold. Suffice it to say, that less than one dozen bottles of the Humor Doctor (and in a few weeks) healed up those feet and ankles, so that they were smooth and apparently sound. The man wore boots without inconvenience. Numerous cases of pimples in the face have been treated with this medicine to the entire eradication of them. In Melrose alone, there are more than a hundred persons who have used the Humor Doctor, and gave it an excellent name. In all the towns around it is well known and approved.

For the sake of showing what is thought of it, a few testimonials are here inserted.

MILTON GALE, ESQ, Boston.

I hereby certify that I was sorely afflicted with boils for two years, developing themselves upon my limbs and other parts of my body. The sufferings which I endured from them are indescribable. Suffice it to say that I faithfully tried several of the most popular humor remedies, but without removing the affliction. At length by the earnest request of an intimate friend, I was induced to try Dr. J. W Poland's Humor Doctor, and am very happy to attest that all my boils were removed and my health was restored by using Dr Poland's aforesaid medicine.
MILTON GALE.
Boston, January 11th 1866.

MRS WHEELER Stoneham, Mass.

I very confidently and earnestly recommend Dr J W Poland's Humor Doctor as an excellent remedy for Humors, having been wonderfully benefitted by it myself. My own case was a very severe and obstinate one. For more than two years the skin upon the inside of both my hands and even down on the wrist, was constantly cracked and broken up so that I was unable to use my hand in any kind of wet work, and was obliged to wear gloves in sewing to avoid getting blood upon my work.—The humor which so afflicted me was probably a combination of Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. My general health was quite poor. Soon after I began to use the Humor Doctor I could perceive signs of healing. I continued to take the medicine till I was finally cured. My hands are now perfectly free from humors, and to all appearances my whole system is clear of it, and has been for several months. I used eight bottles before I felt safe to give it entirely up, but they cured me.
MARGARET WHEELER.

Hoyt's Illuminating Oil.

A NEW ILLUMINATING OIL.—The best and safest oil for burning in the household is the new Illuminating Oil secured to Mr Edwin Hoyt, of Stamford, by caveat filed at Washington. Its advantages over kerosene are at once apparent and those who are accustomed to burn kerosene will be glad to know that they will no longer be exposed to danger by its explosive nature. The new oil has neither smoke nor does it emit a disagreeable odor, and will give a more brilliant light than any other known chemical. We have seen it in use and would recommend some enterprising man to purchase the right for this vicinity.—Bridgeport Standard.

[COPY]
OFFICE OF STATE ASSAYER,
PORTLAND Me., March 6th 1867.

This is to certify that I have this day tested a sample of "Hoyt's Improved Illuminating Oil." The Oil was treated as in all other trials which I have made of similar substances.

At 110° flame was applied to the mouth of the tube, but there was not sufficient evolution of vapor to support combustion. At 150° the fluid was boiling and the vapors burned tranquilly and gently.

The result of this test would indicate that the Oil in question is a safe preparation for use in families for household illumination.

Despatches to the Evening Times

JEFFERSON CITY, April 23

The Evening Union of this city says that on the 19th inst a squad of the seventh cavalry under Major Cooper, killed six Cheyenne Indians at Cimarone landing, 20 miles west of Fort Dodge. This is the first blood spilt in the Indian war of 1867. One soldier was killed and one wounded.

A severe shock of an earthquake was felt here this afternoon.

ST LOUIS, April 24

The Prescott, Arizona, Miner says that fourteen members of Capt Dodge's company of rangers, surprised a camp of soldiers [Indians?] about one hundred miles from Prescott, Dec 31st, and killed twenty-three of them. One of the rangers was killed and three wounded.

Two distinct shocks of an earthquake were felt here about three o'clock this afternoon. The vibration was from North to South and lasted about five seconds. Articles of crockery, &c, were shaken vigorously, but no harm done.

The same shock was felt throughout Kansas and different parts of Mississippi causing great alarm.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 24

The following is the substance of the recent correspondence between Gen Pope and Gov Jenkins—

Gen Pope asked the Governor if he had seen General Order, No 1, issued April 10th, in reference to organizing States under the military bill, before he (Gov Jenkins) issued his address to the people of Georgia, advising non-action until the question was decided by the Supreme Court.

Gov Jenkins replies he had supposed he was exercising such freedom in expression of opinion relative to public matters, as seemed to be still accorded citizens of the Republic. He did not imagine it was abridged by holding office. In future he will do and say what he believes is required by his duty and oath of office. This he hopes will not involve either conflict or controversy between them in the execution of their respective trusts and thinks it need not.

The General in reply says Gov Jenkins' explanation is satisfactory so far as the past is concerned, but for his own part, being sent to execute the laws of Congress he will carry out the provisions of the military bill which recognize the existing State Governments as merely provisional. The object of allowing these to continue was the administration of State laws during the progress of reconstruction.

Gen Pope requires that the civil machinery of the State be not perverted so as to frustrate the execution of the laws of Congress.

The civil officers are required not to use their influence to prevent the people from submitting to and carrying out the laws of Congress.

He will be compelled to remove all officers who use their influence to prevent the laws, but he hopes harmonious relations may continue.

KANSAS CITY April 24

A heavy shock of an earthquake of half a minute's duration was felt here at 40 minutes past two this afternoon. The plaster was shaken off of one or two houses but no serious damage was done.

NEW YORK, April 25

The Herald's Havana correspondence has the following—

Commander Hanks, of the Austrian frigate Dandola, at a banquet on the 14th inst., is reported to have said that he had received orders to send his executive officer to Vera Cruz to take command of Maximilian's yacht and convey the Archduke home.

BATH, April 25

The Government testimony in the case of the Bowdoinham bank robbers has been substantially concluded, and the defence will be entered upon this afternoon. The evidence that has been adduced is regarded as conclusive in determining the guilt of the prisoners. The trial bids fair to last several days longer.

Trial of the Alleged Robbers of the Bowdoinham Bank

This trial commenced at Bath on Tuesday last—Judge Tapley presiding.

The defendants are David Bartlett, Orren Simms, and Edward McGuire.

The counsel are—F Adams, County Attorney, and Geo F Shepley for the State. Henry Tallman and John S Abbott for the prisoners.

The jurors are—Ruel Bickford, foreman, William Adams, Bartlett, Francis M Brown, Robert S Campbell, Johnson Clark, B Curtis, D Cutting, Calvin Dyer, Samuel Edgecomb, Aaron Goodwin, Charles Gould. Zacheus M. Beal was challenged peremptorily on behalf of Bartlett, and B T Bicknell on behalf of Simms.

We give the more important part of the evidence, reported by the Lewiston and Bath papers.

Robert Butterfield called by the Government. I am cashier of the National Village Bank of Bowdoinham. I was acting as cashier of this bank in June, 1866.

Ques.—State what took place at your house on the night of June 21st last, and on the morning of the 22d, after midnight.

Ans.—I slept on that night in the L of the house, in the chamber, with a son, a boy about 12 years of age. That room looks out upon the station house of the Portland & Kennebec Railroad. My wife slept in the main house, at the end near the railroad depot. She had an infant with her. I was aroused somewhere near one o'clock, and saw at the foot of the bed three persons facing me, one of them at the right hand, holding a pistol in his hand. It was quite light at that time. I saw distinctly. I had received a severe blow upon my head and probably remained unconscious for some time judging from the appearance of the men, they were standing still, looking at me. I presume I must have lain in that state for some time. There was nothing said at that time. The rest that I recollect was hearing the words in a low tone "we want the keys of the bank" and from several persons moving round. Perhaps they were searching for the keys. I heard the voices in different parts of the room, though I heard no steps moving around with any more noise than cats would make.

They soon seized hold of me and commenced to tie me, at my feet first. They tied my hands behind me with a cord. The pillow [illegible] and kept my mouth shut [illegible] with tremendous violence and [illegible] me by [illegible] "don't open your mouth, I'll choke you to death." A gag was put into my mouth. I was turned over on my face, my face buried in my pillow. I could not breathe for a short time. I suffered extremely, he discovered it and jumped up very quick and raised the window and lifted my face from the pillow; after that his hand was passing over me all the time while I lay here, he seemed to be disposed to keep me alive, I remained in that situation perhaps half an hour. I could not state exactly the time I should think somewhere near half an hour, perhaps longer, when the cords were cut above the ankles and I was seized by two men, the man with me and a younger one.

They took me, undressed as I was, with the gag in my mouth all the time out of the room down by the front stairs, on by the railroad track, then up Main street to the Bank. Upon entering the Bank I saw a man standing by the safe with a mask on within his reach on the counter was a dirk and pistol. They took me round near the safe, inside the counter, they had already opened the door of the vault, and the outer door of the safe. There was a steel box in the lower part of the safe in which were kept the money and the valuables of the Bank, which were secured by a combination lock. It was necessary to change the key in order to open it. That key was presented to me and I was ordered to change it. I think previous to that, they had cut the cords about my wrists. I changed it after some hesitation and threats and they opened and unlocked it and removed the contents. They carried off everything.

Shepley—Question. Among the things they took out, did they take any gold coin, and if so, how much and whose property was it?

Abbott—I object to that question, may it please your honor, and perhaps it may be as well here, that the ground of that objection be distinctly stated. If the question is avowed to be merely preliminary for going into the substantive crime, we make no objection, but if, as it is reasonable to suppose the question is propounded for the purpose of establishing the commission of the crime charged, then we object because of the insufficiency of the description given, and claim that the testimony should not be received as being for that reason irrelevant and that it establishes nothing. The allegation is a certain amount of gold coin valued at $65. I claim this is no sufficient description of the article alleged, to be the subject of larceny. It should be described as being current in this or some other country, and a description of the kind of coin, whether half eagles or of some other denomination.

Shepley—I do not consider it necessary or at all material that we should go into this question of description, because there is abundant property alleged in the indictment about which there is no question. It is immaterial whether they stole $65 or $65 000.

The objection was ruled out—and then upon the question as to whether any P & K R R bonds were taken the prisoners counsel raised the question whether railroad bonds are in the language of the law "goods and chattels." If there had been a statute making goods and chattels only the subject of larceny the stealing of railroad bonds would not be a violation of any such statute.

This objection was withdrawn temporarily.

Witness stated that the persons took certain papers and a pocket book, the property of witness. After they had got what they wanted they returned me to my bed, with feet and hands tied, and mouth still gagged; when subsequently removed the gag was covered with blood; the sheets and pillows were saturated with blood. I believe that Simms is the man that gagged me, I do not recognize either of the others only as to size and general appearance. Two of the men who committed the robbery correspond in size and appearance with the other prisoners. Two of the men in my room were shorter than Simms, the fourth man was shorter than Simms, two of the men who were in my room left it, does not know that a person remained with Mrs B while witness was taken to the bank.

Cross Ex. Was in the bank when the cords were first cut from my wrists, there were two with me when I was taken to the bank, did not see any more until I got into the bank; there was another man there, in my room as I was laying in bed I was facing the windows, the men were between me and the windows, was not, at the time, sensible of being struck; there was a little space of time after I saw them before there was any movement, I believe the persons who brought me from the bank to the house were the same who took me to the bank, am not sure; the night was not very dark. I could distinguish persons in the room,—there was a lamp in the entry. I saw no lamp in my room but there was a light in the room, when I first saw them there was more light than there was soon after, there was some light in the bank, don't recollect whether there was any moon or whether it was or was not cloudy. I could see him when he put the gag on me; he left the mark of his countenance on my mind. I saw his face and feel certain that I could distinguish it.

Direct resumed. Witness produced a mask, dark lantern, broken glass on canvass, pair of socks, a "jimmy," and one or two other articles found in or about the bank after the robbery.

Mrs Henrietta L Butterfield, sworn—Am the wife of Robert Butterfield; was at home on the night of the 21st of June last, occupied one of the rooms in the body of the house fronting the main street and the end fronting the depot, was awakened by a very distressed noise, which appeared to proceed from my husband's room, the noise soon ceased, soon heard in his room voices of several men talking; soon two men came to my room, one passed to the backside of the bed, one said "kill her baby, kill her baby." I saw a weapon in the hand of one of the men, the one now produced answers the description of that one, I turned my head from them, one of them said "we have been in this bloody war, and money we want and money we will have." the person who spoke then left the room and I saw him no more that night. The other person then said "we shall offer you no violence if you keep perfectly still; it's money we want, the money of the bank."

He then cut the cord and let down the window shade and sat down by the bed. I asked him about my husband, he said he was comfortable and would not be harmed. He opened the press doors and left them open, he went out into the hall, another man, a tall man, appeared, and they whispered together, I heard nothing they said. He went to the window and looked out, after I had asked him repeatedly, he went to the other room and brought my little boy and put him in the bed with me, the boy was restless and complained of the cord, the man pulled the bed clothes over his shoulders, he afterwards loosened the cords that his ankles were tied with. The tall man looked in frequently, they whispered together, the small man walked the room a good deal, at times he sat down by my bed, at other times he sat on the opposite side of the room, he appeared to be of a very nervous temperament, the tall man came in hurriedly and gathered up several articles, tore up a cradle quilt, he took a towel from the rack, they told me they wanted to tie my feet, I put my feet out of bed and they tied them; I begged of him not to tie my hands, as I could not take care of my sick baby, they tied my hands and applied the gag to my boy and myself, the tall man asked the other if that negro was watching outside, and was answered that he was.—The small man had on a linen coat, dark pants, a slouched hat, and socks drawn over his boots; I have no doubt that the two persons before me, (Maguire and Bartlett,) are the men who were in my room; I noticed that the small man had a peculiar voice,—feminine for a man, have since heard him speak; I recognize the voice, I saw the dirk frequently, it was the one now shown, or one precisely like it, so far as I can recollect; the plan here shown is a correct representation of our house, the light was in the front of the front entry, opposite my door.

Cross-Ex. The light was a kerosene lamp with a chimney; I was agitated at first; was afterwards composed so that I knew what was going on, I saw the face of the tall man when he came to the door, and when he came into the room and tore up the things to gag me, I watched him intently, I now recognize the persons before me as the same as those in my room, by their size general appearance, and the tall man by his countenance.

Second Day—Forenoon. Several witnesses were introduced by the government. Thos R Simpson was called to describe the place where the horse was hitched a half mile from the village. There were signs of two horses, marks of carriage wheels, indications that the carriage was separated from the horses and carried clear of the ground into a side wood road and returned in the same way.—Some line was found on the ground of the same sort as that which was used to tie the Butterfields.

Robert P Carr, one of the directors of the Bank, was called to show the condition of things at Butterfield's house and at the bank on the morning after the robbery.

Charles H Thompson was called to testify to a collision with Simms the evening before the robbery, within sight of the chamber windows of Butterfield when he caught hold of Simms, supposing him a familiar acquaintance, when he found he had caught a Tartar—Simms throttling him after which he was glad to make his escape.

Marshal Heald, of Portland, testified to the finding of Bank papers in a sewer of that city. He identified Simms and Bartlett as men whom he had seen in Portland on the 17th and 18th of June. Hotel registers were introduced in which General Shepley represented that there was found one hand writing against three names. June, G. H. Fitzgerald was registered at the United States Hotel, Portland, J E Fitzgerald of Boston, on June 6th, J Dunbar, of Portland, at the Tontine, Brunswick, June 2?, 1866 and J Dunbar of Portland at the Sagadahoc House, Bath, June 17th, 1866.

Christiana Griffin, of Brunswick, testified that on her way home from a visit to her husband's mother she was taken into a carriage with Bartlett on the Wednesday before the robbery and gives the details of a long conversation.

Rollins of the U S Hotel identifies McGuire as a guest of his in Portland. Capt Perkins of Bath identifies Bartlett, his horses, his carriage and an interfering strap.

John Sennott a Bath hostler, an observant and quick witted Irishman, who calls the acuteness of counsel in question when they ask him to explain what he means by one sitting at another's right hand, (surely a poser on his but one right hand) he identified Bartlett on the 21st of June, and also the interfering strap.

The evidence during the afternoon session was all relative to the team supposed to have been used by the bank robbers.

FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1867.

THE UNITED STATES A FAILURE. Democratic organs like the New York Day Book, which represent the copperhead wing (that will soon control the whole party again) are now arguing that the war for Independence was a miserable failure; that there is "no natural principle of cohesion" between the citizens of the United States; that Washington's idea of a united nation, bound together in the bonds of "fraternal love, was the dream of a visionary." This being the case, they can see no future for the Democratic party except by the doctrine of "State rights"; by wiping out all the lessons of rebellion; going back to the principles of Calhoun, with each State at liberty to frame its own domestic institutions including the divine one of negro slavery, and restricting the powers of the Federal Government to such matters as relate to the common defense of free commerce among the States. Then, with the annexation of Mexico and Cuba as their watchword in order to maintain the balance of power between the North and the South, the copperhead leaders hope to again return to the pleasant pasturage of office, and enjoy once more the power and patronage from which they have been so long debarred.

The Day Book says:

A gallant and noble Western Democrat, and one of the ablest stump speakers in the country, writes us: "Beseech the South to stand fast. Call no Convention under military power, and in the name of God let us go to work and hold up their hands and make common cause in the defence of Liberty. Let the whole West and South arise in the name of God and Liberty." To all of which we respond Amen, with all our hearts."

Thus we see these copperhead leaders mean that the democratic party (if they can overthrow the Republicans by the aid of the rebels) shall reverse everything that the Republicans have done for freedom, destroy all the fruits of the war, and restore things as they were before the rebellion. The Bangor Democrat virtually admits that this is what its party intends to do.—although it hardly ventures to declare it in so many words. The people will, of course, understand that if they do not desire a return of the reign of the old oligarchy, with all its hatred of equal rights, they must see to it that the Republican party is sustained. The Democrat declares that all the principal acts of the Republican Congress have been unconstitutional, and in derogation of "State Rights." Thus believing, of course, if the Democratic party comes into power, it will aim to undo these acts. They are therefore pledged to repeal the Civil Rights Act—to take back the suffrage bestowed upon the freedmen—to recall the boon of political equality—in fact, to restore Slavery, and to declare that any State has a right to secede at will! Then comes repudiation of the war debt; This is the logical sequence which follows their allegations of unconstitutional action by the Republicans. Can they avoid following out that sequence if they obtain control of the government? Do they wish to avoid it. We believe not. If possible, they would put the whole land under the rule of slavery again to-morrow.

THE NEWPORT CASE. The Bangor Democrat has an outrageous misrepresentation of the case tried here last week, in which George W. Prentiss of Newport, sued certain parties for damages, for arresting and keeping him out of harm's way, when he expressed his gratification at President Lincoln's death. So bitter is that paper at the refusal of the jury to give two or three thousand dollars damages to this copperhead for no injury at all, that the editor indulges in the most reckless and absurd statements, and assails the unlucky jury with more spleen and disappointment than we have seen exhibited since Lee's surrender and the collapse of the rebellion. We understand that there was no evidence except his own to show that Mr. Prentiss was in any way materially injured by the parties who compelled him to go to Newport village and take the oath—much less to prove the Democrat's allegation that "his hip-bone was dislocated, and his neck so injured that he was able to turn his head only in one direction for six or eight months." If his hip bone was dislocated, he has a very wonderful leg—for he didn't discover the dislocation that day, nor did it hinder him from walking about as usual after he reached the village. It was shown on the other hand, that he had been subject to chronic rheumatism, and that his lameness was no worse after than before the transaction referred to. The principal, and in fact only damage he received, so far as we are informed, was being "restrained of his liberty," for about five hours—and if Newport people were as greatly incensed at men who expressed joy at the assassination, as some Bangor people were, the "restraint" must have been for his own good. He might have received real damage if he had not been in the hands of those who arrested him. Some six or eight persons were arrested here in Bangor at the time, for similar expressions and lodged in jail for several days, to keep them from being dealt with by men who could not restrain their indignation.

FREE SPEECH IN VIRGINIA. A correspondent of the Washington Chronicle, in giving an account of a Union meeting at Louisa Court House, Virginia, relates the following incident attending Mr. Hunnicutt's beginning to make an address:

> He had been insulted and hooted by a rebel crowd upon his arrival at the depot, and he had not proceeded far when they again began a disturbance, to play their old game of choking down free speech. At this juncture Mr. W. James, one of our few staunch Union citizens, took his place beside Mr. Hunnicut, and, speaking directly to the rebel crowd, said: "The Union men of the county are here to-day to hold this meeting, and they are in sufficient force to protect themselves, to preserve order, and to put down rebel opposition; and I tell you if you make it necessary we will do it. We have had our mouths closed by you long enough, and now we are going to speak out. I warn you not to interfere." If a battery of artillery had been levelled upon them they could not have been more effectually silenced."

WASHINGTON ITEMS. A letter to the Times says:

The feeling in strong temperance legislation is daily growing in this city, but will not enter into this election. Temperance men seem to [illegible] some action from Congress, and, besides, four-fifths of the radical temperance men of the city are here temporarily [illegible] they could not hope to accomplish anything [illegible] of Temperance and [illegible] good [illegible] this Spring.

WASHINGTON [illegible]. The Boston Herald's correspondent [illegible] that the story started by a Boston paper that Secretary Seward has opened negotiations for the purchase of the western half of British North America is, as was telegraphed you, without any foundation. It is based on the mere presumption that the territory sandwiched between Washington Territory and our newly acquired Russian possessions ought properly to belong to us. It is well remarked by a morning paper that the rumor that Mr. Seward has offered to accept British America as payment for the Alabama claims has several improbable features. One of these is that Great Britain has all along steadily refused to admit that it owes us anything for the depredations of the Alabama. Secondly, the kingdom of Canada would most decidedly object to any such sale. The third and last feature is alone sufficient to demonstrate, for the present, the absurdity of the whole thing, and that is the source of the rumor.

That Washington needs a decent hotel is a fact known to the entire country, and an effort is at last to be made to supply that great want. A fine marble front hotel is about to be erected by a New York company on the site of the Old Capitol, fronting the eastern part of the Capitol Square. Plans for a marble front hotel fronting Pennsylvania Avenue and Seventh street, by extending the Seaton House, have been made. If carried out it will make one of the finest hotels, not only in Washington, but in the country. The present lessees of Willard's are contemplating the erection of a hotel on a site owned by them on Lafayette Square, and still another in that vicinity is projected by Stuart the New York millionaire. The Clarendon has changed hands and will open as a family hotel in a few days under a new name.

THE PROPER WAY TO READ PARADISE LOST. In a recent lecture, Mr. W. Lloyd Garrison said that nothing he could say could so clearly illustrate the state of Southern feeling as it was illustrated in the two first books of "Paradise Lost." It was only necessary to substitute for the name of the arch fiend himself that of Jefferson Davis; for Belial, Stephens; for Beelzebub Mason; for Lucifer, Lee, for Moloch, Toombs; for Mammon, Benjamin; for Pandemonium, the South—and the parallel was complete. The lecturer then recited the address of Satan to his legions, where they are urged by the fierce eloquence of the fiend to rise again against the "tyranny of Heaven." What a paradox, he said—the tyranny of Heaven! Yet so it was with these men, who would now rise again against the North, at whose feet they lay conquered. Smarting under her defeat, the South would try again how most to offend her enemy.

PROBABILITIES OF A WAR IN EUROPE.—A Washington despatch says an unofficial letter was received at the Department of State on Tuesday, dated Paris, April 8, from a prominent American, whose opportunities for gaining correct information of the impending trouble are excellent. He sees no hope of averting a collision between France and Prussia. The proposed National Congress at Paris for mediating purposes is looked upon as futile as the one which met to avert the war between Prussia and Austria. American exhibitors at the Paris Exposition are represented as being in great tribulation over the fear of the war.

NEW YORK THIEVES. The N. Y. World gives statistics of some of the thieves of that city. The number and classification is as follows: Pickpockets (embracing our stage and car thieves), 750; burglars 200; house sneaks, 250; till tappers, 125; pocket book droppers, 30; confidence men, 35; hotel thieves, 70; river thieves, 300; panel thieves, 35; shoplifters, 225; domestic thieves, 200; counterfeiters, 50; miscellaneous thieves, 100.

[This don't include the thieves of the City Council, who, if not so many in number, are greater thieves than all the rest.]

TO COUNTRY ASSESSORS. A law passed last winter by the Legislature of this State, requires all the shares of the National banks to be taxed in the towns where the banks are located, and they are not liable to taxation elsewhere. This is in keeping with the United States law establishing said institutions. A proposition that the taxes be paid in towns where the shares were owned, has been declared illegal by the full bench of the Supreme Court of this State.

A Conservative Convention was held at Nashville on Tuesday, in which there were six colored delegates. The speeches made by the conservative orators were of the most destructive nature, as they were in applause of the Southern Confederacy. This shows what the county has to expect from Southern conservatives. Should it ever get the upper hand, it will be found an iron hand, without the velvet glove.

PERUVIAN WAR MATERIAL INTERCEPTED. Letters from St. Thomas report that the American barque Palmos, loaded with about 1000 tons of shells, bombs, cannon and other munitions of war for the Peruvian Government, had put in there in distress.—The Spanish Consul has requested the Governor of the Island to detain the cargo, as it is to be used against Spain, and a Spanish war vessel had arrived there to look into the matter.

THE COST OF WAR. A Lyons, France, journal sums up a few items of expenditure in arms and ammunition by European governments as follows:

> The quantity of arms which Europe is at this moment engaged in transforming or manufacturing is estimated at 11,000 cannon and 3,200,000 rifles. If the former were valued at 2000 francs each, that gives a sum of 22,000,000 francs, and that is an extremely low price. The rifles at 40 francs each represent a sum of 128,000,000, and that in most countries is far below the actual sum, the Chassepot costing 75 francs, and the Swiss Winchester 100 francs. This amount will therefore probably be exceeded, and as all the accoutrements will also require transformation, this expenditure, which, according to the most moderate calculation, is already twenty-two millions for cannon, and one hundred and twenty-eight for rifles, together one hundred and fifty millions, will certainly be doubled. It will rise to triple, or four hundred and fifty millions, taking into account the munition, powder, lead, cartridges, &c. Let us say, in round numbers, five hundred millions! half a milliard (£20,000,000.)
> We ask any intelligent man is it not the most grievous thing possible, to see half a milliard thus spent in instruments of war, when the people every where are in want of primary schools, apprenticeship, instruction and professional training; when there are the most urgent applications for the execution of roads, bridges and the most indispensable means of communication.

THE POPE. On the 15th ultimo the house of Rothschild paid to the French government, [illegible] francs for [illegible] the Papacy [illegible] the proportion [illegible] by the Italian kingdom for the [illegible] pontifical provinces. A previous [illegible]

Another [illegible]-inch gun [illegible] at Fort Pitt. As it came from the mold it weighed 140,000 pounds; and when finished will weigh 96,000 pounds. Its diameter at the muzzle is thirty-eight by seventy inches; at the breech ninety-four inches; length about sixteen feet. It is for the naval service.

—The Savannah (Ga.) Republican wants a dozen or more of the leaders of the Republican party to go through the South and enlighten the people on the real purpose and designs of the party. It thinks the opposition of the South is mainly attributable to want of correct information, and falsification of matters by Southern editors.

—The Memphians have an old fashioned way of punishing pickpockets and thieves. One such was arrested there the other day and fined $25 and sentenced to 58 days hard labor in the chain gang, and to crown all, he was then labeled and paraded through the streets of Memphis. He has since brought suit for $10,000 damages against the Police Commission.

—A haunted house in Saginaw, Michigan, from which the ghosts have driven several families who attempted to occupy it during the last three years, by irrepressible noises, has been taken possession of by a deaf man, and the spirits will have to resort to some other means than noise to rout him. The result is anxiously watched by the believers in the marvellous.

—The Boston Transcript says there are now living at the North End of that city two cheerful, contented ladies, each keeping house with a daughter, one of whom is eighty-eight years old, having lived sixty-five years in the house she now occupies. The other, aged ninety-four, has a distinct recollection of the visit of Washington to Boston.

—Some deaf and dumb children in Jacksonville, Ill., were asked the meaning of eternity. One wrote on his slate, 'It is the life-time of the Almighty;' and another only made a circle. These are beautiful thoughts, God's lifetime is eternity because it is without beginning or end.

—That mysterious Memphian, who was arrested last year for Surratt, and confined for some time in the old Capitol Prison, is now in jail in Chicago, for attempting to defraud several life insurance companies of $14,000, by the popular dodge of a mock death and burial. His real name is Timothy W. Fuller.

Last year California imported 52,000 lbs. of raw sugar. Now they are going to make beet sugar.

Almost an entire double track of railway now exists between Boston and Albany.—Only 22 miles of track remain to be laid, and then the work will be done.

Colored citizens voted a few days since at the Colorado election without any interruption.

The burning of the Lindell Hotel, at St. Louis, one of the largest and most beautiful edifices in the State, furnishes an instructive lesson to builders upon the importance of putting fire-proof walls with roof parapets in such a structure, to separate it from buildings and its different compartments from each other. Had this precaution been observed in the instance cited, a great portion of an architectural pile which was the pride and glory of that city would have been saved. It is very unwise economy to neglect means which make a fire so easily controllable in fabrics of so great magnitude and cost, and it is at the same time an act of great injustice to the owners of adjacent blocks. When a corporation piles up a mass of combustible materials which is liable at any time to become a source of devastation to an entire neighborhood, the law should compel them to adopt safeguards which experience has shown to be sufficient. We have noticed with pleasure the recent erection of these walls separating the buildings of some of the compact business streets of our own city, and there can be no reason why in any such instance they should be wanting.—[Providence Journal.

Gives Nature a Lift.

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and then are surprised that they fall sick.

The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. Add to this the unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the lassitude produced at this season by the change from the rigor of Winter to the warmth of Spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without re-inforcing the physical energies.

But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-heated rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids.

Why use them, when

a vegetable tonic without alloy, are every where obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the feeble and debilitated so harmless in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects, as this celebrated STOMACHIC and ALTERATIVE.

In the army and the navy, in new settlements, and in crowded cities, by old and young, rich and poor, it is used as a PROTECTIVE and RESTORATIVE MEDICINE with most gratifying results. apr17 d2n3taw1d&w2w

An Effectual Worm Medicine

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

OR WORM LOZENGES. Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child.—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

Dr. Schenck on Dyspepsia.

SYMPTOMS, CAUSES AND REMEDY.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia—A sense of fullness, tightness, and weight in the stomach, together with flatulency, acidity, sour, offensive belching of wind, water-brash and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; frequently there is also a palpitation of the heart, which physicians mistake for heart disease, and when the stomach is in this condition it is coated with a mucous or slime. The rough fibrous portions of the stomach, similar to what we see in tripe, is what throws out the gastric juice and when the stomach gets a thick coat of slime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, and digestion ceases. Schenck's seaweed tonic dissolves this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to its natural condition.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmonary Consumption.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. The Liver has all of the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low, and the blood so thick it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from the thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hæmorrhages cease. If, when persons are attacked with hæmorrhage, they would first take a good purgative, something that would act on the liver, they would soon be relieved from bleeding from the lungs, and it is the only way, for astringents are only temporary, and irritate the bronchial tubes, and lay the groundwork for consumption.

DR. SCHENCK will be professionally at his rooms every week, 32 Bond Street, New York, and 35 Hanover Street, Boston, from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with the Respirometer the charge is $5.

His medicines are for sale by all druggists and dealers. Also a full supply at all times at his rooms. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

AUCTION!

BY J. B. FOSTER,

SALES ROOM

No. 44 West Market Square.

GENTEEL HOUSE,

With Spacious Grounds, on Ohio Street.

On Tuesday, May 7th, at 2 P. M., on the premises, (unless previously disposed of at private sale), the very desirable Residence owned and occupied by James Smith, Jr., Esq., situated on the Easterly side of Ohio Street, above Court Street. The lot is about 200 feet front on Ohio Street and contains nearly 40,000 feet of land.

The house was thoroughly built, very conveniently arranged, and in excellent repair—has good space, and a cement cistern of large capacity. The situation of the house, being on the northerly side of the lot, leaves the grounds very convenient for division, or very desirable for a garden, for which purpose they have been used. If preferred, the house will be sold with a part of the land. The location of the property is very desirable, commanding a splendid view of the city and surrounding country. Terms liberal, apr 2

House Lots.

Immediately after the above sale I shall offer 7 House Lots, 75x135, very pleasantly situated on Highland Street. Also, 2 Lots on James Street. A plan of these desirable lots may be seen at the office previous to the sale.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

GEN. L. C. BAKER'S

History of the Secret Service.

The most exciting and interesting book ever published.

THIS work embraces an AUTHENTIC and OFFICIAL account of the hitherto suppressed facts and information obtained by General Baker during his five years' service as Chief of the National Detective Force. It was announced more than a year ago, but owing to the attempts of the Government to suppress it, its publication was delayed. It is now issued, UNALTERED and UNABRIDGED under the supervision of GEN. BAKER.

The little information and meagre news of his operations derived from the newspapers of the day have only awakened a more intense desire in the minds of the reading community to learn still more of the mysteries heretofore hidden by the curtain of official surveillance. This book thoroughly lifts the veil of secresy, and lays bare their inward recesses to the inspection and criticism of the world.

The MORALS of the NATIONAL CAPITAL are THOROUGHLY VENTILATED, and there are some STRANGE REVELATIONS concerning Heads of Departments, Members of Congress, Female Pardon Brokers, and distinguished military characters.

For thrilling interest these marvellous narratives of Gen. Baker eclipse the famous experiences of FOUCHE and VIDOCQ, and possess the pure merit of truth for their recommendation, being all attested by the highest official authority.

Send for Circulars and see our terms, and a full description of the work. Address

Bickford's Spring Opening!

Dear people of the city, my life's devoted to your pleasure!
Call or order, which ever you please,
Through me, the ocean's treasure!
I have the power to summon from the vasty deep
All for your satisfaction and health,
Such of those delicate fishes
Which will cost you only a tithe of your wealth!
Now good people, just remember,
BICKFORD has a perfect understanding
With old Neptune, the old sea god.
And when he wants fishes, at his demanding
Forth they come, skipping and hopping,
Like young maidens when going a-shopping.
Blood-red lobsters, boiled in salt water,
And if they hain't been, why, they oughter
For they are so very much better
Than in fresh,—but perhaps no wetter—
Then the delicious Mackerel and Cod
Off which dines the old sea god,
Either served up as a fry or chowder,
When he smacks his lips a good deal louder
Than a thirty-pound Parrott gun,
And declares its the best of fun!
Come look into Bickford's and see his fishes,
You will have them to gratify your choicest wishes.
At least, as regards your supper or dinner,
Be you black or white, or saint or sinner:—
He is constantly supplied with, and has always on hand,
Fish from the salt sea, caught out sight of land,
But should you prefer those from the fresh ponds,
You will be suited to a T—he will come under bonds.
Then look into Bickford's at any time of day,
You will be treated with despatch and fairest of fair play!
And go your way rejoicing with the prospect of a dinner,
And may your shadow never be less nor you walk
any thinner.
Then call in to Bickford's, I tell you earthly mortals,
For you will have then entered into life through its portals—
I mean a material life—a life of the body,
Not a spiritual one as found in rum toddy.
Oh! we must sustain the house we live in,
Or else "shut up shop," "dry up," "step out," or give in!

WASHINGTON, April 25.

It is not expected that the Japanese Commissioners will be presented to the President until next week, when the Secretary of State shall have returned from Auburn.—There will not be an extraordinary exhibition of official attentions, such as was extended to their predecessors some years ago, but they will be received in the same manner as any other representatives of foreign powers.

The receipts of the Treasury from June 1, 1866, to April 22, 1867, were:

From internal revenue sources,	$225,659,000
customs,	137,500,000
Total,	$363,159,000

Receipts for the corresponding period of the previous year, or from June 30th, 1865, to April 23, 1866 were—

From internal revenue,	$259,355,000
customs,	135,933,000
Total,	$395,288,000

A despatch to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, dated "Fort Sedgwick, Colorado, April 24," from Brig. Gen. Alfred Sully commanding, states that they had met 20 Sioux from the north. They gave all the particulars of the Fort Kearney massacre. He admitted that he participated and perhaps all did.

The Commissioner learns that the Sans, Uncpapas, Arias, Blackfeet, Upper and Lower Condanias and other bands of Missouri Sioux were not engaged.

Gen. Sully says it is of the greatest importance that the Commissioner visit the bands at once to prevent their going to war.

It is also very important that the Commissioner visit Fort Laramie immediately and gather the friendly Indians on the reservations, separating them from the hostile ones.

There is a rumor of hostilities with the Cheyennes at the South, which, if true will materially effect all Indian affairs.

George Peabody arrived here this morning, and was accompanied by Sir Frederick Bruce and Geo. W. Riggs, Esq, visited the President and had half an hour's interview. Mr. Peabody left Washington for New York in the early afternoon train.

Internal Revenue receipts today were $872,000.

Chas H. Dunham, alias Sanford Canover, was today sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Albany Penitentiary.

There are three statutes bearing on the crime of perjury, two of these are general and the third is a special statute framed for the District of Columbia. The last, however, does nothing more than prescribe punishment for perjury on conviction in this form.

The indictment in the case was framed upon the general statute, and it was under the general statute that the accused was tried and convicted.

Conover was sentenced today under the special statute, and his counsel, H C Goodrich, appealed from the sentence to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia on the ground that the prisoner should have been sentenced in accordance with the statute under which he was convicted.

FORTRESS MONROE, April 25.

Senator Wilson arrived here in a special boat from Norfolk this morning. He was received by Gen. Burton in the fort, who ordered a salute of 11 guns to be fired.

Mr. Wilson subsequently addressed a large audience of white and colored persons, at Butler's School House. He urged upon the colored people to vote for the party founded on Humanity and Equal Rights to all. They were to assist the Republicans north in modifying the State constitution, for the purpose of securing protection to their rights. He impressed upon them the necessity of education and industry. There would be no impediment to representation in Congress, if Union men were elected. He would see Virginia, with the full conviction that a Republican Governor, a Republican Legislature and two Republican U. S. Senators would be elected. The speech was frequently interrupted by applause.

Mr. Wilson proceeded to North Carolina this afternoon, and will speak at Newbern and Wilmington.

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Magilton, aged 62 years, was found murdered at her residence in Shippen street, above 5th. Her throat was cut with a razor, and there were several contused wounds on her head inflicted by a hammer, left by her side. Information was first given to the husband of the deceased by Geo. Winnemore, who was taken into custody on suspicion and committed to await the results of the coroner's investigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.

Advices from Mexico state that Maximilian is still at Queretaro with 14,000 troops.

The Liberals under Escobedo had been reinforced by 4000 troops, making 22,000 men under arms.

The last news received from Colonia states that no decisive action had taken place. The Imperialist General Marquez had managed to pass the Liberal lines with 1500 cavalry, and had reached the city of Mexico, where he forthwith levied a forced loan of one million dollars, and succeeded in collecting six hundred thousand by imprisoning the heads of several of the leading commercial houses. After collecting the money Marquez raised 4000 troops and left for Queretaro.

Colima is prospering under the government of Ramon Vega.

NORWICH, Ct., April 25.

Charles C. Williams, the spiritualist, who has been on trial before the Supreme Court for three days past, was to-day found guilty on the first count of the indictment, viz:—assault with intent to kill his daughter Eunice, a girl thirteen years of age. A motion has been made for a new trial, but it is possible it will be withdrawn and sentence given to-morrow.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25.

In anticipation of the proposed ceremonies at Elmwood Cemetery to-morrow, when the ladies of this city intend to decorate the graves of the rebel dead, Captain O. A. M. Estes, of the 25th Infantry, commanding this post, has addressed a letter to Mayor Saffard in which he says it becomes his duty as a military representative of the Government, to see that a stop [illegible] to such proceedings. The Choral Festival.

THIRD DAY.

Thursday, April 25.

The morning was devoted especially to the "Messiah"—a full rehearsal being had.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At half past three the hall was well filled with an audience who were much pleased and entertained with the programme of the Matinee, which was as follows:

Overture—"William Tell." Quintette Club.

Song—"Where are the friends of my youth." Mr. J. Whitney. Being encored, he sang "The Burning Ship".

Solo on the "Cithern," an instrument used in the Highlands of Bavaria, by Mr. E. M. Heindl.

Encored.

Song—"Somebody's heart." Mrs. Cary.

Song from "Martha". Mr. M. W. Whitney.

Violin Solo—Fantasie on themes from "Lucia". Mr. Henry Suck.

Duett—"Like the Lark." Miss Houston and Mrs. Cary.

EVENING—CONCERT.

In the evening Handel's great Oratorio of "The Messiah" was given—for the first time in this city for many years—and was a decided success, surpassing anything of a similar character which was ever previously attempted in this vicinity. The solo parts by Miss Houston, soprano, Mrs. J. S. Cary, contralto. Mr. James Whitney, tenor, and Mr. M. W. Whitney, basso, were executed in a manner which held the vast audience enraptured by the pathos and grandeur of their fine rendering of Handel's greatest Oratorio.

The choruses were well sustained, and evinced a degree of progress on the part of the performers which gave the greatest credit to the Director and themselves.

Time and space will not permit a minute criticism. The vocal parts were accompanied by the Mendelssohn Quintette Club, with the addition of a contra-basso, and by Mrs. F. S. Davenport on one of Chickering's full concert grand pianos.

The Matinee this (Friday) afternoon at 3½ o'clock will be of unusual merit.

The third and last concert of the Festival will occur this evening. The first part of the entertainment will consist of choice miscellaneous selections, in which all the soloists and the Quintette Club will take part. A special attraction will be a solo on the flute by Mr. Edward M. Heindl, whose wonderful performance so entranced the audience on Wednesday evening. This gentleman has no equal in America, and but few in the world.

Part Second will consist of Rossini's "Stabat Mater", with full chorus, the soloists and Quintette Club. This promises to be the most attractive feature of the Festival, it being the most exquisite and beautiful of all its great author's productions, and no other composition extant rivals its peculiar charms. All should hear it, as it is seldom performed in this country.

—The Belfast Age says the statement in Port and papers that Col. A. W. Johnson has subscribed $55,000 to the stock of the Belfast and Moosehead Lake Railroad is a mistake. He will subscribe liberally, but has not yet named the amount. The books are not yet opened.

PISCATAQUIS MATTERS. It will be seen by proceedings below that the inhabitants of Sebec, in a very full town meeting legally held on the 22d inst., voted, only four persons dissenting, to aid in the building of the Piscataquis road, to the extent of the statute limit—five per cent. on their valuation.—Great enthusiasm was manifested. By invitation, addresses were made by A. G. Lebroke, Esq. and S. T. Pullen, Esq., of Foxcroft.

At a meeting of the legal voters of the town of Sebec, held on the 22d inst., for the purpose of voting upon the question of aiding in the construction of the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad, Chose Jesse F. Stevens Moderator.

Voted, That the Selectmen be authorized and instructed to procure a loan, to the amount of five per cent of our valuation, to aid in the construction of the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad, to be expended within the limits of the town of Sebec, when the Directors of said road are ready so to expend it.

Chose Jacob Hamilton, Geo. W. Wingate and Theodore Wyman a committee to view the route for said road and confer with similar committees of other towns.

Voted, That a copy of the record of this meeting be sent to the Piscataquis Observer and the Bangor Whig & Courier for publication. T. WYMAN, Town Clerk.

—We learn that quite a number of "woods men" left on the cars for the West this morning in a "balmy" condition. Of course they did not procure the necessary "tangle foot" in this city.—[Times.

Per Contra. We understand a company of about one hundred lumbermen left on the cars Wednesday, in company with Messrs. Archer and Kimball—all perfectly sober—reporting no liquor was to be obtained in Bangor.

—It is true, as we said before, that friend Favor's big egg which we chronicled recently, wasn't his last by any means. He has left (not laid) another on our table, measuring 8¼ by 6¼ inches, and weighing 4½ ounces strong. It was produced by the same hen (a small one) that astonished us with the six ounce egg last fall, and which has not yet been equalled by any hen in the State.—That hen has the belt.

—It is said that the superstructure of the railroad bridge will be here in a few days, and will be put in position as soon as the abutments are prepared. There is a strong apprehension that the draws have been so arranged as to cause serious obstruction to the use of some of the wharves in the stream—that there should have been one large pivot draw in the centre, instead of a draw at each end, close to the wharves.—We cannot say who was in fault for not having the matter properly arranged.

—The good steamer "General Grant", Rollins master, has made her appearance in the Kenduskeag waters for the spring campaign. The skipper, as he stood grimly at the helm yesterday while passing our office at full speed, looked every inch master of the situation. He is evidently determined to fight it out on that line, if it takes all summer.

—The spring still continues to advance very slowly with us. The northern snows are still deep, and melt very gradually. A warm and powerful southerly rain-storm is needed to carry off this mass of cold material.

—The Age makes the snow fall of last winter equal to eleven feet. In November 6 inches; December 14 inches; January 34 inches; February 9 inches; March 61 inches; April 8 inches—total 132 inches.

MINING ENTERPRISES. The New York Times, in making the following statement, hits the nail on the head. Bad management, or what is worse, no management at all, has bro't heavy loss within the past three years to many legitimate enterprises. It is one of the encouraging signs of the times that careful and prudent men are being chosen to take charge of mining property, which needs only a little nursing to realize results which have been lost by neglect and incompetence:

"A well known mine in Nevada, under the cautious and economical management of its four original owners, paid at the rate of $20,000 per month. Of course it must be sold to a company. It was thus sold and the company managed in two years time to spend $299,000 upon it, to take nothing out, and finally to so wind themselves up that the property passed out of their hands into the control of a few practical men who were able to buy up its bonds and get the whole thing into their own power. Within two months after the second change the sensible administration of the few managers who were directly interested, produced a yield of $67,000 from the 'played out' mine."

CENTRAL
Pacific R. R. Co.,

This Company is constructing under the patronage of the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, the Western end of the Great National Railway across the Continent

Their line will extend from Sacramento, California, across the Sierra Nevadas to the California State line, traversing the richest and most populous section of California, and thence through the great mining regions of the Territories, to the vicinity of Salt Lake City.

It forms the sole Western link of the only route to the Pacific, which is adopted by Congress and aided by the issue of UNITED STATES BONDS.

Their road is already completed, equipped and running for 94 miles from Sacramento to within 12 miles of the summit of the Sierras, and a large amount of the work of Grading, Tunnelling, &c., beyond that point has been accomplished.

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS of the Company afford unusual inducements of Safety and Profit to Investors, for the following among other reasons, viz.:

First. The rate of interest is Six per Cent. in Gold, payable semi-annually in the City of New York.

Second. The Principal is payable in Gold at maturity.

Third. The cost of the Bonds, Ninety-five per Cent. and accrued interest, is Ten Per Cent. less than that of the cheapest Six Per Cent. Gold Bearing Bonds of the Government.

Fourth. The United States Government provides nearly half the amount necessary to build the entire road, and looks mainly to a small percentage on the future traffic for re payment.

Fifth. Owing to this liberal provision, accompanied with Extensive Grants of Public Lands, by which the Government fosters this great national enterprise, its success is rendered certain and its financial stability is altogether independent of the contingencies which attend ordinary railroad enterprises.

Sixth. The Security of its First Mortgage Bonds is therefore ample, and their character for safety and reliability is equalled only by that of the obligations of the Government itself.

Seventh. The net earnings of the completed portion are already largely in excess of the interest obligations which the Company will incur on twice the distance, and are steadily increasing, rendering the uninterrupted payment of the Interest absolutely certain.

Eighth. At the present rate of Gold they pay nearly 8½ per cent per annum, on the amount invested.

The Bonds are issued in denominations of $1 000 with semi-annual Gold Coupons attached, payable in New York, and are offered for the present at 95 per cent. and accrued interest (in currency) from January 1st.

Orders may be forwarded to us direct, or through the principal Banks and Bankers in all parts of the country.

Remittances may be made in drafts on New York, or in Legal Tender Notes, National Bank Notes, or other funds current in this city, and the Bonds will be forwarded to any address by Express, free of charge. Inquiries for further particulars, by mail or otherwise, will receive punctual attention.

DIABETES,

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS CATARRH OF THE BLADDER.

STRANGUARY AND BURNING OR PAINFUL URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through the hips. A tea spoonful a day of the Constitution Water will relieve you like magic.

PHYSICIANS

Have long since given up the use of buchu, cubebs and juniper in the treatment of these diseases, and only use them for the want of a better remedy.

CONSTITUTION WATER

Has proved itself equal to the task that has devolved upon it.

DIURETICS

irritate and drench the kidneys, and by constant use soon lead to chronic degeneration and confirmed disease.

We present the Constitution Water to the public with the conviction that it has no equal in relieving the class of diseases for which it has been found so eminently successful in curing; and we trust that we shall be rewarded for our efforts in placing so valuable a remedy in a form to meet the requirements of patient and physician.

STROUDSBURG, PA., Jan 20, 1866.

DR. GREGG:
Dear Sir:—I wish to inform you that I have been under the treatment of some of our best physicians for nearly two years, without receiving any benefit. I had lost all confidence, and I indulged in but little hope of a cure from any source. My disease was Dropsy, and my physicians told me that there was no cure for me I was tapped some fifty times, and at the different operations about 1200 pounds of water was removed.

I am happy to inform you that I have been completely restored to health by the use of Constitution Water.

I make this statement hoping it may reach those persons who may be similarly afflicted.
Respectfully,
MRS. MARGILL C. LEVANWAY.

IN DYSMENORRHŒA, OR PAINFUL MENSTRUATION AND MENORRHAGIA, OR PROFUSE FLOWING.

Both diseases arising from a faulty secretion of the menstrual fluid—in one case being too little and accompanied by severe pain, and the other a too profuse secretion, which will be speedily cured by the Constitution Water.

That disease known as FALLING OF THE WOMB, which is the result of a relaxation of the ligaments of that organ, and is known by a sense of heaviness and dragging pains in the back and sides and at times accompanied by sharp, lancinating or shooting pains through the parts, will, in all cases be removed by the medicine.

There is another class of symptoms arising from IRRITATION OF THE WOMB, which physicians call Nervousness which word covers up much ignorance, and in nine cases out of ten the doctor does not really know whether the symptoms are the disease, or the disease the symptoms. We can only enumerate them here. I speak more particularly of Cold Feet, Palpitation of the Heart, Impaired Memory, Wakefulness, Flashes of Heat Languor Lassitude, and Dimness of Vision.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

DANVILLE, Pa., June, 1862.—Dr. William H. Gregg—Dear Sir:—In February, 1861, I was afflicted with sugar diabetes, and for five months I passed more than two gallons of water in twenty-four hours. I was obliged to get up as often as ten or twelve times during the night, and in five months I lost about fifty pounds in weight. During the month of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experienced relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured soon after regaining my usual good health.
Yours truly, J. V. L. DEWITT.

BOSTON CORNERS, N. Y., Dec. 27, 1865.—Wm. H Gregg & Co—Gents:—I freely give you liberty to make use of the following certificate of the value of the Constitution Water, which I can recommend in the highest manner:—My wife was attacked with pain in the shoulders, whole length of the back, and in her limbs, with palpitation of the heart and irritation of the bladder. I called a physician, who attended her about three months, when he left her worse than he found her. I then employed one of the best physicians I could find, who attended her for about nine months, and while she was under his care she did not suffer quite as much pain. He finally gave her up, and said "her case was incurable. For," said he, "she has such a combination of complaints that medicine given for one operates against some other of her difficulties." About this time she commenced to use the Constitution Water and to our utter astonishment, almost the first dose seemed to have the desired effect, and she kept on improving rapidly under its treatment, and now superintends entirely her domestic affairs. She has not taken any of the Constitution Water for about four weeks, and we are happy to say that it has produced a permanent cure.
WM. M. VAN BEUSCHOTEN.

WEATHERSFIELD, Conn., March 2, 1866.—Dr. W H. Gregg.—Dear Sir:—Having seen your advertisement of "Constitution Water," recommended for Inflammation of the Kidneys and Irritation of the Bladder, having suffered for the past three years and tried the skill of a number of physicians with only temporary relief, I was induced to try your medicine. I procured one bottle of your agents at Hartford, Messrs. Lee, Sisson & Co., and when I had used half of it, to my surprise, I found a great change in my health. I have used two bottles of it and am where I never expected to be in my life, well, and in good spirits. I cannot express my gratitude for it. I feel that it is all and more than you recommended it to be. May the blessing of God ever attend you in your labors of love.
Yours truly, LEONARD S. BIGLOW.

HEALTH NOTICE.

To the Inhabitants of Bangor.

IT being made my duty, by the law, to cause all filth to be removed, and to require owners or occupants of premises, to remove or discontinue any source of filth thereon, I hereby notify all persons to THOROUGHLY CLEANSE their premises, and to remove therefrom all decayed matter, and all substances injurious to health, and to discontinue all sources of filth, before the first day of May next. It is to be hoped that there will be a disposition on the part of all to comply with these requirements, that there may be no necessity for enforcement of the following provision of the law from the Revised Statutes:

[CHAP. 14, SEC. 16.]

"When any source of filth or other cause of nuisance is found on private property, the owner or occupant thereof shall, within twenty-four hours after notice from the Health Committee, at his own expense, remove or discontinue it; and if he neglects or unreasonably delays to do so, he shall forfeit not exceeding one hundred dollars; and said Committee shall cause said nuisance to be removed or discontinued, and all expenses thereof shall be repaid to the town by such owner or occupant, or by the person who caused or permitted it."

SOLEMN VOICES.

BY HENRY W. LONGFELLOW.

I heard from out the dreary realm of sorrow
The various tongues of Woe.
One said, "Is there a hope in the to-morrow?"
And many answered "No."

And there arose and mingled their loud voices,
And cried in bitter breath,
In all our joys the past alone rejoices—
There is no joy but Death.

"O! dreadful Past, beyond thy mid night portal
Thou hast usurped our peace,
And if the angel Memory be immortal,
When shall this anguish cease!"

And suddenly within the darkened distance,
The solemn Past replied:
"In my domains your joys have no existence,
Your hopes, they have not died!

"Nought comes to me except those hosts detested,
Phantoms of Wrong and Pain;
But whatsoe'er Affection has invested,
The eternal years retain.

"Then stand no more with look and soul dejected
To woe and wan despair
The joy ye mourn the future hath collected,
Your hopes are gathered there.

"And as the dew which leaves the morning flowers
Augments the after rain—
And, as the bloom which falls from summer bowers
Are multiplied again—

"So shall the joys the future holds in keeping,
Augment your after peace;
So shall your hopes, which now are only sleeping,
Return with large increase"

OUR TREASURE.

I must write it; if nobody ever reads a line of it, I must, while it is all new and fresh in my mind, write out the history of the last two weeks and the description of 'our gal,' as Harry calls her.

Our gal first made her appearance in the house two weeks ago last Monday, and I hailed her broad face and stout figure with a most hearty welcome. Little did I realize—but to begin at the beginning. I am a very young housekeeper, yet theoretically I do know something of the arts and sciences thereto appertaining. I was married about two years ago; but we have always boarded until now, and when I started in my pretty house, with two good girls, and everything new, I fancied that clockwork would be a mere wandering vagrant compared to the regularity of my proceedings.

''Twas on a Sunday morning,' as the song says, that my troubles began. I was dressing for church, when my chamber-maid came up with a rueful countenance.

'If you please, Mrs. Harvey, I'm going.'

'Going!' I exclaimed. 'Where?'

'To leave, ma'am. I've got a spell of neuralgia coming on, and I'm going home to lay by.'

'But you can lie down here if you are sick.'

'Well, ma'am, I ain't to say sick, exactly, but I'm fixing for a turn.'

'A turn!'

'Yes; I have neuralgia in spells, and I always feel 'em coming.'

Words were vain. Go she would, and go she did. I went into the kitchen to explain to the cook that she must do double duty for a time. She was a perfect termagant, and to my utter amazement she wheeled around with the cry—

'Gone! Jane gone! Will you get another girl?'

'Certainly.'

'To-day?'

'How can I get a girl on Sunday?'

'And to-morrow wash-day! Well, I'm not going to stay to do all the work. You'll either get another girl early to-morrow morning or I'll leave!'

'You'll leave now, in the shortest space of time it takes to go from here to the door!' cried Harry, from the sitting room, where he had overheard us.

With many insolent speeches she departed, and inconvenient as it was, I was glad to see her go.

Of course there was no church, and I began to get dinner. Harry, like a masculine angel as he was, took off his coat, and came down to help me, with an assurance that he could not sit still and hear the cook use the tone she did one instant longer. It was a merry day. Harry raked the fire till his glossy brown curls were powdered with gray, which premature sign of age was produced, he assured me, by care, and not by the weight of years. He peeled the potatoes so beautifully that they were about as big as bullets, after he had taken off the skin about an inch thick all round. Pies were the only article of cookery with which I was particularly acquainted, so I made a meat pie, two apple pies, and short-cakes for supper, which we ate with the dinner at six o'clock. It was late enough when we cleared up, but at last all was done but one thing. Harry was in the bath-room refreshing himself, when I discovered that the coal was all gone. I hated to call him down, for he had worked hard all day, so I took the scuttle and went down into the cellar myself, laughing to think how he would scold when he knew it. I was a wee woman, and not very strong, but I filled the big scuttle, and tugging away with both hands, started up stairs. I was at the top, my labor nearly over, when somehow, I cannot tell how, I lost my balance. I reeled over, and the heavy thing came with me down to the bottom of the stairs. I felt it crushing my foot. I heard Harry's call, and then fainted.

I know now, though I did not then, how he lifted me in his strong arms, and carried me up stairs, and the touch of the cold water which he poured over me is the next thing I remember. As soon as I was conscious, and able to speak, I let him go for a doctor, lamenting that mother and Lou were both out of town for the summer.

Well, it was a weary night; no time to scold, Harry said, so he petted, nursed and tended me, till my heart ached with its fullness of love and gratitude. Morning found me, my fractured ankle in a box, lying helpless in bed, and Harry promised to send me a girl immediately. So, after all this long prelude, I come to 'our gal.' Oh, I must tell you how Harry made me a slice of buttered toast for breakfast, by buttering the bread on both sides, and then toasting it.

It was about nine o'clock when my new girl came. Harry had given her a dead-latch key, so she entered and came up to my door. Her knock was the first peculiarity that startled me. One rap, loud as a pistol shot, and as abrupt.

'Come in!' I cried.

With a sweep the door flew back, and in the space stood my new acquisition. I must describe her. She was very tall, very robust, and very ugly. Her features were very large, and her mouth full of (her only beauty) white, even teeth. Still, the face was far from stupid. The mouth, though large, was flexible and expressive, and the big black eyes promised intelligence. But oh, how can I describe her 'ways,' as Harry calls them. She stood for a moment perfectly motionless, then she swept down in a low, and really not ungraceful courtesy.

'Madam,' she said in a deep voice, 'your most obedient.'

'You are—' I said, questioningly.

'Your humble servant.'

This was not getting on a bit, so I said—

'Are you the girl that Mr. Harvey sent from the Intelligence Office?'

'I am that woman,' she said with a flourish of her shawl; 'and here is my certificate of merit,' and she took a paper from her pocket. Advancing with a long step, a stop, another step and stop, until she reached my bedside, she handed me the paper with a low bow, and then stepping back three steps she stood waiting for me to read it, with her hands clasped and drooping, and her head bent as if it were her death warrant.

It was a well written, properly worded note from her former mistress, certifying that she was honest and capable, and I really had no choice but to keep her, so I told her to find her room, lay off her bonnet, and then come to me again. I was half afraid of her. She was not drunk, with those clear black eyes shining so brightly, but her manner actually savored of insanity. However, I was helpless and then—Harry would come as early as he could, and I could endure to wait.

'Tell me your name,' I said, as she came in with a stride and stop.

'My name is Mary,' she said, in a tone so deep that it seemed to come from the very toes of her gaiters.

'Well, Mary, first put the room in order before the doctor comes.'

'Oh, [illegible] could only picture that scene! [illegible]

the chairs down in their places like a magnificent bandit spurning a tyrant in his power.

But when she came to the invalid [illegible] gentle, almost caressing her manner, [illegible] placing me up comfortably, making the bed at once easy and handsome, and arranging my hair and dress with a perfect perception of my sore condition. And when she dashed out of the room, I forgave the air with which she returned and presented a tray to me, for the sake of its contents. Such delicious tea and toast, and such perfection of poached eggs, were an apology for any eccentricity of manner. I was thinking gratefully of my own comfort, and watching her hang up my clothes in the closet in her style, when the bell rung. Like lightning she closed the closet door, caught up the tray, and rushed down stairs. From my open door I could hear the following conversation, which I must say rather astonished even me, already prepared for an eccentricity.

Dr. Holbrook was my visitor, and of course his first quest on was—

'How is Mrs. Harvey this morning?'

In a voice that was the concentrated essence of about one dozen tragedies, my extraordinary servant replied—

'What man art thou?'

'Is the woman crazy?' cried the doctor.

'Lay not that flattering unction to your soul!' cried Mary.

'H'm—yes—' said the doctor, musingly; then, in his own cheery, brisk tones, he added: 'You are the new servant, I suppose?'

'Sir, I will serve my mistress till chill death shall part us from each other.'

'H'm. Well, now, in plain English, go tell her I am here.'

'I go, and it is done!' was the reply, and with the slow stride and halt I heard her cross the entry. She was soon at my door.

'Madam, the doctor waits!' she said, standing with one arm out in a grand attitude.

'Let him come up,' I said, choking with laughter.

She went down again.

'Sir, from my mistress I have lately come to bid you welcome, and implore you to ascend. She waits within yon chamber for your coming.'

Is it to be wondered at that the doctor found his patient in perfect convulsions of laughter, or that he joined her in her merriment.

'Where did you find that treasure?' he asked.

'Harry sent her from the office.'

'Stage-struck, evidently, though where she picked up that fifth cut actress manner remain to be seen.'

The professional part of his visit over, the doctor stayed for a chat. We were warmly discussing the news of the day, when—whew! the door flew open, and in stalked Mary, and announced, with a swing of her arm—

'The butcher, madam!'

I saw the doctor's eyes twinkle, but he began to write in his memorandum book with intense gravity.

'Well, Mary,' I said, 'he is not waiting?'

'The dinner waits!' she replied. 'Shall I prepare the viands as my judgment shall direct, or will your inclination dictate to me?'

'Cook them as you will, but have a good dinner for Mr. Harvey at two o'clock.'

'Between the strokes 'twill wait his appetite.' And with another sweeping courtesy she left the room, the door, as usual, after her exit, standing wide open.

She was as good as her word. Without any orders from me, she took it for granted that Harry would dine up stairs, and set the table out in my room. I was beginning to let my keen sense of the ludicrous triumph over pain and weariness, and I watched her, strangling the laugh till she was down stairs. To see her stab the potatoes, and behead the celery, was a perfect treat, and the air of a martyr preparing poison, with which she poured out the water, was perfect. Harry was evidently prepared for fun, for he watched her as keenly as I did.

Not one mouthful would she bring to me, till she had made it as dainty as could be; mashing my potatoes with the movement of a saint crushing vipers, and buttering my bread in a manner that fairly transformed the knife into a dagger. Yet the moment she brought it to me, all the affectation dropped, and no mother could have been more naturally tender. Evidently, with all her nonsense, she was kind-hearted.

It took but one day to find that we had secured a perfect treasure. Her cooking was exquisite enough for the palate of an epicure; she was neat to a nicety, and I soon found her punctual and trustworthy. Her attentions to myself were touching in their watchful kindness. Sometimes, when the pain was very severe, and I could only lie suffering and helpless, her large hands would smooth my hair softly, and her voice became almost musical in its low murmurings of 'Poor child, poor little child.' I think her large, strong frame, and consciousness of physical superiority to me in my tiny form and helpless state, roused all the motherly tenderness in her nature, and she lavished it upon me freely.

I often questioned her about her former places; discovered to my utter amazement that she never was in a theatre, never saw or read a play, and was entirely innocent of novel-reading.

I had become used to her manner, and no longer feared she was insane, when one evening my gravity gave way utterly, and for the first time I laughed in her face. She had been arranging my bed and self for the night, and was just leaving the room, holding in one hand an empty pitcher, and in the other my wrapper. Suddenly a drunken man in the street called out, with a yell that was really startling, though by no means mysterious. Like a flash, Mary struck an attitude. One foot advanced, her body thrown slightly forward, the pitcher held out and the wrapper waved aloft, she cried out, in a voice of perfect terror—

'Gracious heavings! What hideous screams is those?'

Gravity was gone. I fairly screamed with laughter, and her motionless attitude and her wondering face, only increased the fun.

'Go down, Mary, or you will kill me!' I gasped at last.

Apparently unconscious of the cause of my merriment, she went slowly from the room, waving alternately the pitcher and the wrapper.

To see her brandish a dust-brush would strike terror to the heart of the most daring spider; and no words of mine can describe the frantic energy with which she punches pillows, or the grim satisfaction on her face at the expiring agonies of a spot of dirt she rubs out of existence. The funniest part of all is her perfectly stolid unconsciousness of doing anything out of the way.

Harry found out the explanation. She had lived for ten years with a retired actress and actor, who wish to bury the knowledge of their past life, and who never mention the stage. Retaining in private life the attitudes and tones of their old profession, they have made it a kind of sport to burlesque the passions they so often imitated, and poor Mary had unconsciously fallen into the habit of copying their peculiarities. When they left for Europe, she found her way into the Intelligence office, where Harry secured her. Long, long may she remain 'Our Gal.'

A WEALTHY REBEL GETTING A TASTE OF JUSTICE. A correspondent of the Buffalo Express, writing from Martinsburg, Va., gives the following item:

A case just closed opened in its exposition the old wound from its first irritation. A man of great wealth, by the name of Nadenbush, as the first breath of war floated over Virginia, raised a company, and soon found that a greater part of the company would not fight under any other banner but the Stars and Stripes. Here was a fix. The rebels had an eye on Harper's Ferry, and were about to send troops to that locality. Nadenbush, the captain, compromised the matter by declaring to the company that he would march them to Harper's Ferry under the "Old Flag," and if ordered into the Confederate service, he would return all those who were for the Union back to Martinsburg. They were accordingly started to the Ferry under the "Stars and Stripes;" but the sacred emblem was then folded, the sham flag of the stars and bars was unrolled, and these deceived men were ordered at once into the ranks of the rebellion. More than half deserted the first night. They were hunted with guards and some imprisoned. Shearer who brings this suit, was caught and thrown into prison at [illegible] and suffered much from the filth [illegible] the jail. [illegible] the live stock interest [illegible] soldier. A DISGUISED BURGLAR.—The following letter accompanied by a package, was sent to one of the principal detective officers of the New York police force last week. It tells its own story:

To Capt. Jourdan, Esq.:—Having been a burglar for the last fifteen years, and always successful with the exception of once, and that being when I fell into your hands, and you being untiring in prosecuting me, I was convicted and sentenced to the State Prison. After serving my time out I thought you would have forgotten me, and there would be nobody to interfere with me; I started again at my old calling and the first burglary that I intended to commit was frustrated by you. I tried again, and was always met by yourself or your shadow haunting me wherever I went or done. Now I am disgusted with you and thieving in general, and, therefore, I send you, through the bearer, all my tools, being a selection that many a modern cracksman would be proud to possess. You will find tools there that will open a money-drawer, a chest, a trunk; tools that will raise a scuttle or go through a brick wall, and, again, tools that will burst any safe in the country. You will find there a good many keys that will open any common lock, and, again, for the most difficult locks. I make you a present of all, and think you are the only man worthy to receive them, because aside of all, I can only praise your ingenuity in ferreting out a case. I never saw or heard of your equal, I can assure you. For my part, I will try to earn an honest living, and keep out of your way. Most respectfully yours,

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Proposals

WILL be received until 12 o'clock, M., May 3d, 1867, at the office of the Superintendent of the new Custom House, Portland, Maine, for furnishing and delivering at site of building the Granite work required therefor.

Plans, specifications and samples of the various grades of hammering may be seen at the office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C., and at this office.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a sample of the stone proposed, not over nine inches cube, properly marked with the name of the bidder, and must be submitted before the opening of the bids.

Specifications and Blank forms for proposals can be obtained from the Supervising Architect, or at this office, and no bid will be considered that is not in strict accordance with their requirements, and of this advertisement.

All bids must be accompanied by the bond of two responsible persons, in the sum of $5000, that the bidder will accept and perform the contract if awarded to him, the sufficiency of the security to be certified to by the U. S. District Attorney, Judge or Clerk of the U. S. District Court.

The Department reserve the right to reject any or all of the bids, and to accept different proposals for the Basement Story and the Superstructure, if deemed to the interest of the Government to do so.

Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Granite work," and addressed to

FELLOWS' ORIGINAL

WORM LOZENGES.

WE can with confidence point to FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES as the most perfect remedy for those troublesome pests, INTESTINAL WORMS.

After years of careful experiment, success has crowned our efforts, and we now offer to the world a confection without a single fault, being safe, convenient, effectual and pleasant. No injurious result can occur, let them be used in whatever quantity. Not a particle of calomel enters their composition. They may be used without further preparation, and at any time. Children will eagerly devour all you give them, and ask for more. They never fail in expelling Worms from their dwelling-place, and they will always strengthen the weak and emaciated, even when he is not afflicted with worms.

Various remedies have, from time to time, been recommended such as calomel, oil of wormseed, turpentine &c., producing dangerous and sometimes fatal consequences. After much research, study and experiments, extending several years, the proprietors of FELLOWS' WORM LOZENGES have succeeded [illegible] from all objections [illegible] In order to assure consumers of the genuineness of these [illegible] the analysis of Dr. A. Notice to Mill Owners and Millwrights.

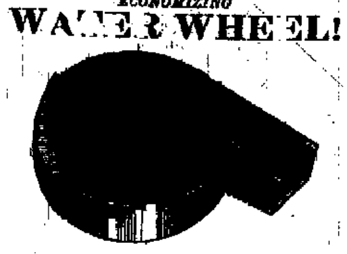
Improved Lever Pressure Centre-Vent.

ECONOMIZING

WATER WHEEL!



Invented and Patented by W. R. Close,
BANGOR, MAINE.

THE Subscribers would ask the attention of Mill Owners, and others interested in Water Wheels, to their Patent Centre Vent Wheels, manufactured at T. N. Egery's Foundry.

The great demand for these wheels have made it necessary for the proprietors to add several more sizes to their former list, and their arrangements are now such that they can generally fill an order in one day after it is received.

We claim superiority over other Wheels for various reasons, the chief of which is the economical use of Water. Trials of these Wheels the past season have demonstrated the fact that they will do the same work with one half the water required for any other Wheel used on the Penobscot River.

Second.—The amount of water vented upon the wheel is self-regulated by a device embodied in the Patent; hence, when the Saw is out of the cut, or the labor is in any way decreased, the speed of the wheel remains the same, thereby avoiding shocks to the machinery, and those break-downs which result from the sudden acceleration of speed, when a wheel does not regulate itself.

Third.—This is an anti-freezing Wheel; by a patented arrangement, that trouble in wheels run in Northern climates is avoided. This Wheel needs no "cutting out," it never freezes.

Fourth.—It is equally well adapted to both horizontal and vertical Shafts; it is cheaper than any other wheel, and can be readily applied to any old wooden or iron shaft, without change of gearing.

☞ By using this Wheel a large majority of Mills can run double the time that they now do, for the reason that it can run with half the water required for any other; hence all those owning Mills on Streams where the water is limited, will see the advantage of using these Wheels.

FREEDOM, January 28th, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gents—I have removed from my Saw Mill a Rose Water Wheel, and put instead one of your Patent Water Wheels of five feet diameter, made at T. N. Egery's foundry in Bangor. I am driving with it under eleven feet head a single Saw, and haul up with but one hundred and ten and a half (110½) inches of water, let on to the wheel through a spout measuring six and a half (6½) inches by seventeen (17) at the pitch. I have not let on to the wheel over one half of that amount, and I am pleased to say that I can saw more than twice as much lumber, and my saw goes much quicker and stronger than it did with the Rose Wheel, with all the water I could get on to it. I cheerfully recommend your wheel to all who may be in want of wheels, especially upon privileges where the amount of water is limited.

Respectfully yours, ELLIOT H. BANTON.

GREENFIELD, Nov. 12th, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—This is to certify that I have been using one of your seven feet Water Wheels in place of a Stearns' Wheel, removed; and after a thorough trial I am satisfied I can do the same amount of work with one quarter the amount of water, formerly used with the Stearns' Wheel.

The water is let on the wheel through a trunk 9 inches wide and 17 inches high, measuring 153 square inches of water; but I do not consider that I use more than one half that amount direct from the flume. Yours, &c. R. L. McFARLAND.

HAMPDEN, March 22d, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—I have this winter removed from my mill a Tub Wheel, and put instead of it one of your seven feet wheels to drive a Double Lath Mill and Cutting-off Saw, to saw laths from round stuff.

I have seven feet head when the tide is down, and at high water in a high course of tides, the water rises four feet over the top of the wheel, thus giving only three feet head; and I am pleased to say that with the amount of back water the wheel drives all my saws fully up to speed, and gives abundance of power to do all the work the saws are capable of doing. The wheel gives perfect satisfaction, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who may be in want of wheels, especially where the supply of water is short, or where there is back water.

Respectfully yours S. F. LEIGHTON.

BRADLEY, March 25th, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—We have in our mill, at this place, a 5 feet 9 inch Wheel of your make, and are driving with it a Double Lath Mill and Cutting off Saw, making laths out of round timber, which requires a great deal of power.

Your wheel furnishes ample power, and drives the saws up to speed; and we consider it does not use more than one half the amount of water that is required for the best wheel we have ever seen before, and cheerfully recommend it as the best wheel we have ever seen. Very respectfully yours,

ESTABROOK & COMINS.

BRADLEY, March 18th, 1867.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—We have the past winter put into our mill a 5 feet 9 inch Close Patent Water Wheel, to drive a Double Lath Mill and Cutting-off Saw, and are pleased to say it gives all the power the inventor claimed for it. It drives our saws all up to speed and gives a large surplus of power, and does not use more than one half the amount of water of any other wheel we have ever used.

We take pleasure in recommending these wheels as the best and most economical in the use of water of any we have ever seen.

Yours truly, A. J. BLACKMAN & CO.

BANGOR, Sept. 21, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gents—Having put in operation, in our new Saw Mill at West Great Works, Oldtown, one of your new patent Mill Wheels, manufactured at Egery's foundry in this city, and fully tested it, we take pleasure in saying that it more than meets our expectations. We are now driving with it, under a nine and one-half feet head, one Clapboard, Sapping, and Shingle machines; Shingle jointer and two Cutting-off saws, with but 204 inches of water, admitted or let on to the wheel through a trunk or spout measuring 12 inches wide and 17 inches high. Its operation gives us entire satisfaction, and we consider it superior to any other wheel within our knowledge, and cheerfully recommend it to those in want of wheels.

W. H. SMITH,
WM. T. PEARSON.

BANGOR, Sept. 21, 1866

Having witnessed the operation of the above Water Wheel in the mills of Messrs. Smith & Pearson at West Great Works, also in the mill of Messrs. Copeland, in Holden, and in Messrs. Comins' mill, in Bradley, both driving a 50 inch circular saw mill, I can with full confidence recommend them as possessing and combining qualities for power, economy in water, regularity of speed, and cheapness of construction, over any other water wheel known to me.

THOS. N. EGERY.

NEWPORT, Sept 24th, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gents—This may certify that I assisted the past summer in putting into the West Great Works mills at Oldtown, for Messrs. Smith & Pearson, one of your Patent Water Wheels of seven feet diameter, made at T. N. Egery's foundry, and am pleased to say that in my opinion it requires for its successful operation the least quantity of water of any wheel I have ever seen, and I cheerfully recommend it to all who may be in want of wheels, especially upon privileges where the amount of water is limited.

J. C. CHANDLER, Millwright.

WEST GREAT WORKS, Oldtown, Sept. 26, 1866.

Having as millwright, under the direction of Messrs. Smith & Pearson, charge of the erection of their new saw mill at this place, in which one of Close's Patented Water Wheels has been put in operation, I fully concur in the opinion given by Messrs. Smith & Pearson and Mr. Egery, as to the merits of said wheel.

DAVID CATCHELL, Master Millwright.

BRADLEY, July 27, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—Gentlemen—We have lately removed from our saw mill a wooden Centre Vent water wheel, and put instead one of your Patent Water Wheels, and after a thorough trial we are satisfied that we can drive our Rotary saw Edger and Trimmer saws, and haul up with one half the amount of water we used with our wooden Centre Vent wheel, which we have always considered a very economical wheel, on a privilege where the amount of water is limited.

We take pleasure in recommending your wheels to all who use water wheels, especially to such as have a limited supply of water.

Respectfully yours, J. W. & J. M. COMINS.

HOLDEN, April 13th, 1866.

Messrs. Dinsmore & Close:—This may certify that I have lately removed from my saw mill a "Brastow Water Wheel," and put instead one of your Water Wheels, and after a thorough trial am satisfied that I can saw twice the amount of lumber I formerly sawed, and use not more than one-third the amount of water formerly used with the Brastow Wheel, which wheel I have always considered a very economical one, on a privilege where the amount of water was limited.

And I take pleasure in recommending your Wheel to all who use water wheels, and especially to such as have a limited supply of water.

THOMAS B. COPELAND.

I concur in the above statement.

American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.

No. 78 State Street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON," Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,"
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

MADAME ZADOC PORTER'S

Curative Cough Balsam,

PRICE, 25 AND 50 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

The Best, Cheapest, and Most effectual Remedy for Coughs, Colds, &c. the World has ever produced.

Purely Vegetable; contains no MINERALS, or other DELETERIOUS DRUGS.

The CURATIVE BALSAM is Warranted, if used according to Directions, to CURE in all cases, Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

Madame Zadoc Porter's Balsam IS A PURELY VEGETABLE EXPECTORANT, prepared with great care and scientific skill, from a combination of the best remedies the vegetable kingdom affords.

Its remedial qualities are based on its power to assist the healthy and vigorous circulation of the Blood through the Lungs.

It enlivens the muscles and assists the skin to perform the duties of regulating the heat of the system, and in gently throwing off the waste substance from the surface of the body.

It loosens the phlegm, induces free spitting, and will be found very agreeable to the taste. It is not a violent remedy, but emollient, warming, searching and effective; can be taken by the oldest person or youngest child.

If you have a Cold, if ever so slight, do not fail to give the Balsam a trial, as the very low price at which it is sold brings it in the reach of every one, that they may always keep it convenient for use.

The timely use of a 25 cent bottle will often prove to be worth one hundred times its cost.
